Mini Arts Festival Show

By Penny Judd

Mini Festival Show, July 16, 2021.

Friday, July 16, 2021 was the first Mini Festival Day! It was for the end of the first section of CAAP. After a long Noontime Show, everyone went to the Courtyard and the Old Courtyard to see what everyone had done over the three weeks. There were clay, videos, podcasts, and a lot of other art like soapstone. I saw a lot of hilarious videos and a lot of cool clay. There was a lot of cool soapstone. At the Noontime Show, a lot of people performed dance and theatre performances.

There were also songs and a lot of bands. It was a very long show, but it was really fun and worth the heat! The Mini Festival Day was a lot of fun and a great way to end the first half of camp. Now there are a lot of new people or people who switched cohorts or classes. There are also a lot of people who left, and the Mini Festival Day was a great way to say goodbye. I think that the Mini Festival Day was a success.

This Week at CAAP

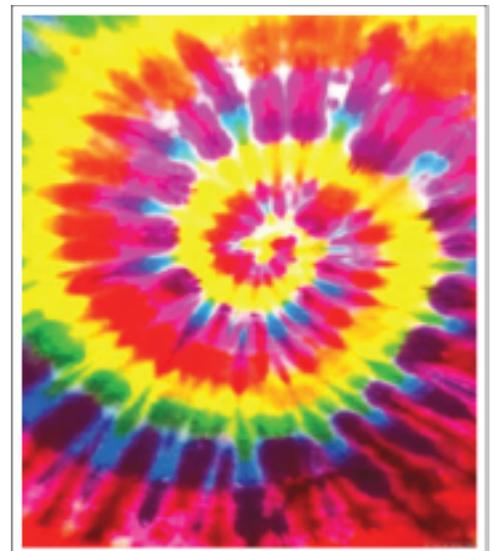

Welcome to Session B (July 19-July 30) at Creative Arts at Park (CAAP).

Festival Period

This week we will have Festival Period offerings on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday. Each cohort will offer a fun, creative, or relaxing activity indoors (specifically designed for YOUR cohort). There will also be an entertaining option offered outdoors, where campers from different cohorts can join in on the fun. Listen for Festival Period announcements in the courtyard during snack and lunch. You can also ask a counselor or CIT. Or, mark your calendar for Tie-Dye Tuesdays with Liza! Don't forget to bring your own t-shirt.

Noontime Show

This week we will have a Noontime Show (NTS) on Wednesday and Friday. Cohorts use the Noontime Show to share song, dance, music, theatrical, or spoken word performances. We also get to watch video performances and art, and photography slideshows too! To learn more about the Noontime Show, listen for announcements in the courtyard or ask your counselor or friendly CIT.

Tie-Dye Tuesdays with Liza, please BYOT (bring your own t-shirt!)

Got Legos?

Please donate used Legos to CAAP: Donations will be accepted at the front desk.

Thank you for your Lego donations. Please keep the Legos coming in. We use them during Festival Period, but we do not have enough to offer Lego building camp wide. Please consider donating used Legos you no longer play with to CAAP!

Magical Animal Advice Column Number Eight

Interviewers: Roselia Sparklenose, unicorn Sizzles Os'more, dragon
Magical animal seeking advice: Hannah the harpy

Hello and it's exciting to be back on Magical Animal Advice Column! Today, at long last, we have a "normal" M.A.A.C! No humans, no one is sick, it's not a meeting with quitting employees, and there are no annoying genie guest stars! That's right! It's just one of those times where some magical animal comes in, and then they leave with their advice! No one leaves as a pile of ash, and no one even leaves trapped in a fishbowl with a sister whom they can't stop fighting with! And no one is afraid of the person who we're speaking to.

And here she is: Hannah the Harpy!

Hi, I'm Hannah. My problem is that no one will take me seriously because I'm so small.

Psst! Rosie! Is that her? That tiny speck? Is she talking? I can't hear anything!

Maybe we should use your megaphone.

Ha-ha! I knew it would come in handy! HEY! HANNAH! CAN YOU TALK INTO THE MEGAPHONE?

Is it working?

Yup! We can hear you now! We just can't really see you. Rosie? Do you still have that magnifying glass you used that one time when you chipped your hoof polish and you didn't know where you chipped it?

Yes, Sizzles. I still have that magnifying glass. Here it is!

Can you see me now?

Yes, we can see you now.

Wow, Hannah! Your eyelashes are very pretty!

Thanks! I like your trident hat, rosie! And I like your red scales, sizzles! Maybe that's just because they look giant compared to me. And that brings us to my problem, which is the reason I came into this advice column! My problem is that I am so small that nobody takes me seriously.

Hmm, that is a serious predicament. What do you think, Rosie?

I agree. I've got no ideas. Sizzles, I don't suppose that your big head has come up with something?

Actually, it did! Rosie, remember the mirrors that you filled the room with in our first episode?

Yes, I still have them. I think that they are in the closet over there.

Thanks! Now, Rosie, help me peel off the glass from the mirror metal.

Okay, Sizzles. Now we've peeled off all the glass. Hey! What are you doing with my trident hat?

Sticking mirror glass to it. Voila! A magnifying glass hat! Now Hannah appears to look much bigger than she actually is! And, I stuck a microphone to it, so her voice sounds a lot louder!

Wow, thanks a lot, sizzles! Your show is the best! I'll recommend you to all my harpy friends! Can I have your autograph?

I was here too, you know. I'm the real star. Anyway, tune in next time for when we flip things and talk to a giant!

Magical Animal Advice Column Number Nine

Interviewers: Roselia Sparklenose, unicorn Sizzles Os'more, Dragon
Magical animal seeking advice: craigery Giagantius, destroyer of 83.6 worlds, eater of children 'n' mayonnaise sandwiches, son of killie the kill giant, unpacker of suitcases, sock and key hider, lightning bellower, canceller of swim class.

Hi! Today is another M.A.A.C article day! Today we're talking to a giant named Craigery Giagantius, destroyer of 83.6 worlds, eater of children 'n' mayonnaise sandwiches, son of Killie the Kill giant, unpacker of suitcases, sock and key hider, lighting bellower, canceller of swim class.

Talk about a dramatic name. I only wish that Jeff, that genie guest star from two episodes ago, had a dramatic name like that. Ooh! Ooh! Rosie! Here the giant is!

Hello, guys! I-

OH MY GOD! MY EARS, MY EARS! ROSIE! HELP! And I can only see his foot. Good thing you removed the roof of the recording studio today.

Shhshsh! Be quiet, Sizzles. Just turn your megaphone to mute mode. It should work.

Oh, good. I think that it's working. Wow, It's weird hearing my voice this quiet. Thanks for solving my problem, Rosie and Sizzles! Ta-ta!

Wait! Craigery Giagantius, destroyer of 83.6 worlds, eater of children 'n' mayonnaise sandwiches, son of killie the kill giant, unpacker of suitcases, sock and key hider, lightning bellower, canceller of swim class, is that your problem? Did we really just solve it by giving you a megaphone set on the "Mute" mode?

Yup! And you can call me Craig. My other name is WAAAAAY too long.

I can SO feel you on that last one. My name has ten words, which is considered long. But yours has twenty-nine! It must be such a pain having to fill out medical forms!

Yeah, it is. And I haven't even done most of the things that my name says I have. For one, I've only destroyed 83.5 worlds! My name lies! Also, I don't eat children 'n' mayonnaise sandwiches. Children have a terrible minty aftertaste. Although my father is named Killie, he actually is a gardener and would never kill anyone, even if his life depended on it. I only unpack suitcases if I forgot to pack something, I don't hide socks and keys, though I am always looking for them, I can't bellow lightning, and I love to swim! Though most pools can't fit someone as big as me... Anyway, thanks for solving my voice-being-too-loud problem! Bye!

Goodbye, Craig!

Tune in next time for a special goodbye from Sizzles and Me!

NEW PUPPY, NEEDS NAME!

By Maia Sullivan, CAAP staring champion and weirdo

Please welcome CAAP's new friend!

Currently, under the name Puppy, this little furball loves cuddles! And there's no doubt its fluffiness is not up for the task! They like playing fetch and know an endless amount of tricks! Puppy is a troublemaker and is always getting into something, including the trash! Energetic, playful, and full of fun, who couldn't like this little cutey? Even I, the honest cat person, am in love with the softness of this puppy. Puppy is currently looking for a name, so if you have any ideas, please send the name to the OTT! We'll put up a poll on Tuesday.

Puppy loves to go on adventures to places at festival period! They're still getting used to CAAP and need some comforting humans, so it would be great if you could stop by and give them some belly rubs! Puppy might stumble into your festival period! Keep a lookout for them... They like to wander.
